

A decorative border surrounds the page, featuring a top and bottom edge with a repeating pattern of skulls and eyes. The right edge is a vertical strip with a chain-link pattern and various macabre illustrations, including a skull with a cross, a face with a cross, and a face with a mouth full of teeth. The word "HAUNTS" is written in a large, black, outlined, gothic-style font in the center of the page. A large, red, diagonal watermark reading "Sample" is overlaid across the entire page.
