CLOISTERS

Welcome to a new Dark Age. Mankind has tried to blow itself to Hell and nearly succeeded. After the fall there is a backlash against technology that has burned books, technicians and educators.

You have chosen the hard path of knowledge and ending this age of ignorance and superstition. You are a Monk in the order of Saint James the Literate. Your mission is to collect and disseminate knowledge, to teach and help the people who are left.

ABOUT THE AUTHOR

Richard Tucholka February 9, 1954 - April 27, 2017

Richard was an amazingly creative individual who traveled SF conventions for over thirty years.

Tucholka was called "one of the unsung heroes of Role Playing" and "Michigan's Gaming Guru". You may know him more for his work in the creation of the role playing games Bureau 13: Stalking the Night Fantastic, voted Best Fantasy RPG of 1991 by the RPGA Network at Gencon.

Richard was a comic book publisher, actor, book reviewer, staff writer for STARDATE and STARDRIVE Magazine, and always a science fiction Fan. He lived in Oak Park, Michigan where he managed Tri Tac Games and worked as Senior Computer Support for a multi-national conglomerate until his early retirement.

His hobbies included house restoration, publishing, gardening, writing, reading (science fiction, anthropology, psychology, sociology, paleontology, and military history), and trying to index his 18,000+ books and B budget movies.

He packed rooms when he did "Uncle Richard's Trash Video Roundup" across the Midwest for a number of years at many science fiction conventions.

If you ever had the chance to play with Tucholka as an RPG Game Master, there is a safe bet he knocked your socks off.
