Today's Heads Up

* Glitch evidently got tired of Nightfire's claims that Ares' products are the best and proceeded to find a number of fire-arms offered by other companies. These weapons vary from bleeding edge to just plain dangerous to use, but when you're in a pinch you'll use whatever is available.

The World's Firearm Catalog—Without Ares

There are those that think any weapon worth owning is produced by the UCAS megacorporation Ares. Perhaps as a statement of just how willing we are to kill each other, however, there are numerous other manufacturers that provide equally lethal options. Nearly every AA or AAA corporation owns at least a small-arms manufacturer, as the Sixth World has a growing need for more weapons, and the corps want the ability to gain windfall profits from desperate purchasers when the opportunities arise.

Shiawase, Renraku, and Saedder-Krupp produce quarterly catalogs similar to the more widely known Ares product, but their efforts have yet to be widely commented on by the shadow community. Cavalier Arms is developing into a brand known for its reliable, if uninspired, designs, but its products are still largely only sold in North America. The availability of these weapons varies considerably based on the location of the manufacturer and the vigor with which it monitors its support channel. These are the weapons you should expect to see on the streets and battle zones near you over the next year or so.

RENRAKU ARMS CATALOG, CONSOLIDATED

>PRIORITY MESSAGE<

This consolidated catalog is intended for internal and Concierge-class customers only. Public dissemination of this information is handled through subsidiary publications. Unauthorized release of this document will result in disciplinary actions against the responsible parties and related subordinates.

- Why is it not surprising Renraku would own a full spectrum of death-dealing companies?
- /dev/grl
- I removed the Renraku-produced weapons that were already covered in earlier downloads. We might as well save the bandwidth for your worthwhile comments.

IZOM APHRODITE

The Aphrodite is one of our newest designs, featuring caseless ammunition and an electronic firing system. The weapon system is designed to be integrated into a police officer's tactical suite, allowing the purchaser to add or remove accessories as needed. The Aphrodite features a fully supported infrastructure, with Izom's Reissuance Warrantee for those weapons that fail to pass our rigorous annual post-sale inspection program.

The short-barreled grenade launcher was an addition requested by mercenaries who received the weapon during Desert Wars Mojave 2071. It functions as a breaching tool more than a tactical weapon since the reduced barrel length ensures easy portability and reduced weight, but range suffers commensurately. Several purchasers have also found the under-barrel accessory useful in the delivery of non-lethal munitions in urban environments.

Standard Upgrades/Accessories: Barrel Reduction (Grenade Launcher only), Electronic Firing, Folding Stock

- Izom fails to mention the best place to get these babies is to pick one up after it has failed the inspection program. They drop them onto the grey markets as a liquidation item. Just another way the corps makes money off the little guy.
- Cosmo
- I would recommend a thorough check before using such items; the quality control for the refurbishing shop is less strict than the manufacturing system.
- Black Mamba
- Some people here might be surprised at the grenade launcher's shorter range. The weapon was designed for close-quarter combat drills by police agencies, not the long-range battle militaries prefer.
- Picador
- Perfect for jungles, both natural and concrete.
- Marcos

IZOM SS-374

The SS-374 is redesign of the classic pump-action shotgun. Our ergonomic enhancement team has attempted to add features that all metahumans will find comfortable while retaining the feel that aficionados have come to expect. The SS-374 features a side-loading tube magazine mounted above the pump action, eliminating the danger of rough use damaging the weapon's functionality. The weapon's advanced safety features and cartridge ignition system ensure the weapon will not discharge when dropped, and its rugged construction will endear itself to operators who take it into less-than-pristine environments.

Standard Upgrades/Accessories: Electronic Firing

IZOM SS-374 (SHOTGUN)

DAMAGE	AP	MODE	RC	AMMO	AVAIL	COST
7P	-1	SA	1	4 (M)	3R	850¥

- This thing is more of a joke than a weapon. A Defiance T-250 is everything this shotgun is and it doesn't have fancy gizmos to mess up the firing sequence. Simplicity is the best answer.
- Riser
- The Izom brand is manufactured and heavily marketed in Europe. It's always good to know what the locals are likely to have, either so you can plan against it or to blend in.
- Fianchetto
- Can anyone tell me why they made a shotgun without some kind of stock? Recoil's a bitch.
- Marcos
- Some of us are tough enough that we don't need them.

IZOM CSM-419

The CSM-419 is a large-capacity shotgun intended for law enforcement and paramilitary organizations that require an edge in close-quarter battle scenarios. The weapon features advanced sighting aids as well as an integrated safety system and complete electronic control of the feed mechanism. The primary action is recoil-operated to ensure reliability when technomancer threats may be nearby. The unique Compact Carry® magazines mesh with the weapon's firmware and form a portion of the weapon's rugged structure.

The CSM-419 has recently participated in approval trials for MET-2000 and Wuxing Worldwide Shipping. While the results of these trials have yet to be made public, the inputs received to date has led to product improvements that will be seen in future production runs. Izom's continued goal of excellence is visible in all of our products.

Standard Upgrades/Accessories: Advanced Safety (basic), Ammo Skip System, Safe Target System, Smartgun

IZOM CSM-419 (SHOTGUN)

DAMAGE	AP	MODE	RC	AMMO	AVAIL	COST
7P	-1	SA	—	10 (C)	4R	1,700¥

- Is this really technomancer proof? I understand that the mechanism is completely mechanical, but how about the rest?
- Clockwork
- The action might be foolproof against hacking, but with all the other electronics you could just reset the safety or set the ammo skip system to empty the magazine in a harmless manner.
- Puck
- Why would Wuxing test a Renraku weapon for their security teams? Don't they have their own manufacturing arm?
- /dev/grrl
- They were tested, but nobody bought many of them. The trials were intended to see if Izom's electronics would be acceptable in a future platform. They found a myriad of issues with the feed system; the unique magazine is more a solution that was looking for a problem than something truly essential.

IZOM PHP-131

IZOM PHP-131

The PHP-131 was developed for smaller shooters who desire the firepower of a larger handgun but cannot handle the weight and bulk of such a weapon on a regular basis. The PHP-131 is manufactured with a modern composite frame using as few heavy components as possible. Modern construction techniques have also made the weapon a favorite of protective details, since the gun can pass through simple metal detectors without issue (we are aware of the complaints of our protective-services clients about this issue, and we are working to resolve it to our mutual satisfaction). Users should be aware, however, that the gun cannot pass through the chemical sniffers and backscatter radar used in modern screening techniques. The weapon is also equipped with a laser sight as a lightweight aiming aid.

Standard Upgrades/Accessories: Ceramic/Plasteel Components (Level 1), Laser Sight

IZOM PHP-131 (HEAVY PISTOL)

DAMAGE	AP	MODE	RC	AMMO	AVAIL	COST
5P	-1	SA	—	9 (C)	11F	650¥

- It's not that much lighter than a Predator IV. It seems like the whole weight issue in the write-up is just an effort to get someone to pay more for a lesser pistol.
- Riser
- The ability to slip by primitive security is not a bad thing. A lot of minor facilities are not up to snuff on security, and a minor adjustment courtesy of your resident hacker means your weapon slides through.
- Fianchetto
- If your hacker has spoofed the system, why bother with leaving it on at all? They should be able to let you pass and then rewrite everything.
- Slamm-O!
- The more you change a system, the more people look around afterwards. Subtle changes can look like mis-calibrations or operator error, allowing you repeat access with minimal risk.
